Description and scope of data processing and your rights

Our processing activities concerning the personal data of visitors of our website are restricted to such data which are required for the purpose of providing a functional website, our contents and our services. Personal data of our users are processed exclusively for those purposes to which the users consented or in the case where any other legal basis (within the meaning of the GDPR) exists. Only such personal data will be collected which are strictly necessary for the purpose of carrying out and processing our tasks and services or which you provided to us on a voluntary basis.

Provision of the website

Whenever you access our website, our web server automatically collects and stores in so-called server log files data and information from the computer system which is used for website access. The following data are collected in this process:

- browser type and browser version,
- operating system in use,
- referrer URL,
- IP address/host name of the computer used for website access,
- time of the server request.

We are not able to associate this data with a specific individual. This information will be analysed for the purpose of preparing website access statistics and is stored on a long-term basis.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small files which your browser creates automatically and which will be stored on your device (laptop; tablet computer; smartphone etc.) whenever you visit our website.

For what purposes do we use cookies?

We make use of cookies on our website for the purpose of designing our offer in a more user-friendly way. Cookies make it possible for us to recognise your device whenever you visit our website again, but also to align the website to your specific needs and to enhance it.

We use the necessary cookies which help us make a website generally usable by providing basic website functions, such as page navigation and access to secured website areas. Websites need cookies to work correctly. In addition, we use statistics cookies which help website operators to understand how visitors interact with a given website by anonymously collecting and reporting information.

Most of the cookies we use are «session cookies». They are automatically deleted at the end of your visit. Other cookies remain on your device until you delete them.

Deleting cookies

You can adjust your browser settings in such a way that you will be informed whenever cookies are set on your computer and that you allow cookies only in individual cases, refuse the setting of cookies in certain or all cases and activate automatic deletion of cookies when closing the browser. If cookies are deactivated, the functionality of this website might be limited.

Consent to and withdrawal of cookie settings

When visiting our website for the first time, you will be prompted to grant your consent to the storing of cookies. In this regard, you may choose whether you grant your consent either to storing strictly necessary cookies only or to storing all cookies. If you want to obtain more information about which cookies we exactly use during your visit to our website, please click on the «Show details» button to expand a list which indicates and describes all the cookies we use. This is where you also find information about how long the cookies we use are stored.

You may withdraw your consent to the respective cookie settings at any time by deleting your browser history. When visiting our website at a later time, you will once again be prompted to grant consent to the cookies.

The legal basis for the processing of data by strictly necessary cookies is point (f) of Art. 6(1) of the GDPR («legitimate interest»), that for other cookies processed data is point (a) of Art. 6(1) GDPR ("consent").

Third-party cookies

Third parties may set cookies on your computer in the case where you follow any links which lead away from our own web servers. We co-operate with the service providers referred to below who might place their own cookies or those provided to them by third parties:

Cookiebot

On our website, we use «Cookiebot», a tool which is used for the purpose of showing all the cookies we use and obtaining your consent to the cookie settings whenever you visit our website. For more information on Cookiebot, please refer to: www.cookiebot.com.

The legal basis for the data processed by Cookiebot is Art. 6 (1) (f) GDPR ("legitimate interest").

If you have any questions specifically related to cookies or any general questions related to data protection, please refer to the Data Protection Officer in charge by using the contact data below:
